Hexagon's Infrastructure & Geospatial Business Area provides digital solutions that capture, measure and visualise the physical world, enabling data-driven transformation.

At Leica Geosystems, part of Hexagon, trust is at the heart of everything we do. From surveying and construction to mapping and other geospatial fields, professionals rely on our measurement technology when accuracy matters and getting it right is critical.

As Content Marketing Specialist for the Geomatics Division Marketing Team, you will help bring that trust to life through compelling storytelling. Working at the intersection of storytelling, technical expertise and marketing execution, you will transform complex subject matter into clear, credible and engaging content that supports global campaigns and connects with professional audiences.

This is a mid-level role for someone who can work independently, manage multiple content projects and turn technical information, customer experiences and expert insights into compelling stories.

A key part of the role is identifying and developing content opportunities within the German market and helping scale them for global use. You will build relationships with customers, subject matter experts and internal stakeholders, uncover stories with broader relevance, and create content that supports brand awareness, engagement and pipeline growth.
